Chair Notes

By Joan Stewart OLIC/OLNC Chair

What a beautiful day to be an Old Louisville Resident! The Neighborhood was showcased by the Hidden Treasures Garden Tour... Thanks 2nd Street... Oak Street is getting attention... Thanks Task Force and Dismas... Safety is being highlighted... Thanks 4th Division LMPD and the Crime and Safety Committee... The Holiday House Tour is going to happen... Thanks to the 20+ people who have stepped up to help... Shakespeare has been honored once again... Thanks Brantley and the wonderful Actors... First and Brook are going two-way... Thanks CM James and Toonerville... Ice Cream Social... Thanks 4th Street... to mention a few of the Events and Projects which have happened thus far this Summer. WOW! AND... it just gets better... St James Art Show, Garvin Gate Blues Festival, The Ghost Walk, and The Holiday House Tour are still to come... never a boring minute in Old Louisville! Believe it or not, there is more happening...

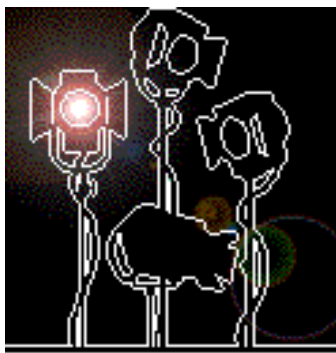

On July 23, 2011 CM James held a "Let's give back the property or money being held by the State" phone-a-thon at the Info Center for the 8000 people who are owed. Thanks David.

Keep on the lookout... there are changes being discussed for many things that are in or happen in Old Louisville... more to come!

Get Ready... you are going to have a grand opportunity to help Old Louisville by VOLUNTEERING your time... your Neighborhood Representative will be disseminating info very soon.

We in Old Louisville are a very big group of people who are all special... no matter where we live in this Neighborhood... we are ALL Old Louisville People... it is ALL of our responsibility to honor our Neighbors, take care of our Property and PARTICIPATE in the Events that are in our interest as well as the interest of the Neighborhood. I know we all know this; however, a reminder never hurts!

See you soon on the Street, in an alley or at a meeting.

Spotlight on...2nd Street's Garden Tour Committee

By Joan Stewart

This month the Spotlight is turned on the Second Street Hidden Treasures Garden Tour Committee! The Committee presided over by Judy Payne works diligently during the year bounded by the end of the current Tour and the beginning of the next year's Tour. They walk the Streets and Alleys of Old Louisville searching for gardens to showcase. This year the Committee completed the daunting task with fervor. The Gardens were wonderful... the variety amazing and the weather cooperated! Yes, everyone was HOT... let us not forget... it is in July... it will always be HOT! Committee, you are to be commended for the organization, the ease of the route, the variety of gardens, the volunteers who completed the setup and especially the providers of the water and ice, the kind words when gardeners were freaking out, and all the myriad of things which must be accomplished in order to have a successful Tour.

Thank you Co-Chairs: Mary Chase, Susan Marquardt, Judy Payne, Members: Melanie Bishop, Kerry De Muth, Ginny Ehrlich, Jo Ann Lockhart, Zane Lockhart, Caroline Martinson, Karen Mullen, Martha Schroeder, Mary Schroeder, and Tim Bordoff Emertis. Old Louisville says... SALUTE!

Spalding University Suites nearing Completion

By Herb Fink, PIC Chair

Spalding Suites, a residential facility for Spalding University is nearing completion at the southeast corner of 2nd & Breckenridge Sts. - 901 S. 2nd St.

The 3-story facility will house 144 students to occupy multiple suite style units.

Ground breaking for the project occurred on February 4, 2011 and completion is scheduled prior to the beginning of classes in mid-August 2011.

Rick Barney, Director of Marketing with Spalding University stated that the development was an equity partnership of Spalding University and Marian Development Group.

Gil Stein & Associates, Architects and Girdler Design Associates undertook the design work on the facility. Gil Stein stated that the architecture of the building is of modern design and relates to the architecture of the recently completed Family Scholar House adjacent at 1st & Breckenridge Streets.

Kimberly Stevenson of Marian Development Group said the development contains 26,000 square feet and is being developed at a total cost of $5.1 million dollars.

She said the facility is fully furnished and includes wifi, cable, up-to-date laundry facilities and a security system. An outdoor student pavilion will be incorporated.

According to Mr. Barey, Spalding University enrolled 2,346 students last fall and is anticipating 2,500 students this fall 2011. He said 320 students will occupy on campus residences.

SOBRO is rapidly in transformation.

Cardinal Towne Ribbon Cutting Wednesday, August 10, 2011, 1:30 p.m.

By Herb Fink, PIC Chair

All in Old Louisville are invited to the ribbon cutting noting the completion of the residential units of the first phase of the Cardinal Towne development on Wednesday, August 10 at 1:30 p.m.

The developers, Investment Property Advisors, invite all to walk through the completed residential units, view the roof gardens, and the below grade parking.

The renovated existing historic buildings along 3rd St. will also be open for inspection.

The commercial businesses are to be in operation sometime in October 2011 and a Grand Opening will be scheduled during October 2011.

All are invited.

Exterior Renovation

By Herb Fink, PIC Chair

The 3-story brick residence at 1827 S. 3rd St. has been undergoing extensive exterior renovation during these recent months by General Contractor Tom Boone.

The Greek Revival with Georgian influence structure has a number of unique features including the following:

- A double cornice with built-in box gutters within each cornice. Mr. Boone says he is aware of only one other residence in Old Louisville of such detail. The lower cornice includes egg and dart detail which Mr. Boone recreated of masonry material. Both cornices were rebuilt.
- The crown mold above the dormer is all metal which Mr. Boone says he has repaired.
- The front porch structure which was in very poor condition has been rebuilt.

The 4 columns and bases are to be refurbished and reinstalled.

The unique sandstone features on the front facade of the building will need future repair.

John Cristofoli and Anna Tatman own the property at 1827 S. 3rd St. John says they are eager to continue with other renovations in the future.

Nazarene Youth Work in Old Louisville

by Herb Fink, PIC Chair

During the week of July 5-10, 2011 the city of Louisville hosted the Nazarene Youth Conference totaling approximately 6,000 young folks.

On Wednesday, July 6, 2011, the Nazarene Youth participated in community service work throughout the community so as to make Louisville cleaner and greener.

Brightside encouraged

A happy group of Nazarene youth their neighborhood volunteers to participate and provide guidance in regard to this undertaking.

Forty-two Nazarene youth from Idaho and eastern Oregon arrived in Old Louisville to undertake community service.

After a welcome in the OLIC, the youth divided into 7 teams and went out into the neighborhood cleaning and taking-up debris from catch basin grates from Broadway to south of Cardinal Blvd. and from I-65 to 9th Street.

Larry Owsley

Most of the youth were from the Boise area and also from other communities in Idaho including Twin Falls, Nampa, Buhl, Meridian, Mountain Home, Kuna, Kimberly, Caldwell and Ontario, Oregon.

We told the youth that we were not

Cleaning debris rom catch basins too familiar with Idaho, but we knew they had a blue football field up there.

The youth worked until noon and returned to the OLIC for a lunch of Papa John's pizza, chips, apples, chocolate-chip cookies and drinks.

The lunch was generously provided by the office of Larry Owsley, Vice President for Business Affairs, UofL in appreciation of the youth undertaking work along Cardinal Boulevard, Brandeis Ave., South 4th St. and other areas adjacent to the Belknap Campus.

After lunch, the youth returned to the neighborhood to complete the work.

They commented that they found historic Old Louisville very interesting as they traveled throughout our neighborhood.

However, they were not accustomed to the humid weather we have in the Ohio Valley.

We thank you Nazarene Youth for coming all the way from Idaho and Oregon to help in keeping our neighborhood clean - it was appreciated.

A special thank you to Paul Marchetti and Jack Omac, who provided guidance during the event.

Planning Officially Underway for Old Louisville's First Annual Spring Festival

By Daniel Mason

As many of you might have already heard, the Old Louisville Neighborhood Council is currently planning the first annual Old Louisville Spring Festival for Spring 2012! The festival will be an exciting street fair that offers local food, shopping, art / antiques, music and information on Old Louisville services and philanthropic entities. The aim of the festival is to not only celebrate all things "Old Louisville" but to also serve as an event large enough to generate a respectable return to support key OLNC and neighborhood association initiatives throughout the year.

In an effort to glean any additional feedback from residents, communications and fliers were disseminated and a community meeting was held on June 30, 2011 (great meeting and big thanks to the Woodcock's for hosting!). The overall consensus was that folks were in favor the the festival concept and the proposed location and approach.

So, with this "neighborhood green light", the official planning has begun! For now, the planning committee is looking at:

- Holding the event two weeks after Derby each spring
- It would be from 10am to 10pm that Saturday, with clean up on Sunday
- The Festival would be held on the 1200 and 1300 blocks of 1st Street (from Oak to Magnolia / Ormsby to Magnolia depending on participation) and parts of Ormsby
- A kid's "fun zone" will be included, as well as a stage at the intersection of 1st and Ormsby for local, live music

A special "thanks" to Don Keeling and the St James team for their wonderful support, input and guidance!

If you would like volunteer to be a part of this exciting event, feel free to contact the Information Center at (502) 635-5244.

Lastly, keep an eye out here for more information as plans are finalized and the event gets closer. You can also "like" us on Facebook to get all of the latest (see <https://www.facebook.com/#!/pages/Old-Louisville-Spring-Festival/212530322126366?sk=wall>)

Family & Children's Place Development PIC Item at their July 14, 2011 Meeting

By Herb Fink, PIC Chair

The function and purpose of the Family & Children's Place:

- To prevent child abuse.
- To stop abuse when occurring.
- To help children recover.

The Family & Children's Place offices were located at 1115 Garvin Place within Old Louisville from the mid 1960s to 2001.

Since that time, their administration office is located at 2303 River Rd. with other satellite offices.

Soon after the previously Salvation Army facility became available at 512 W. Kentucky St., the property and existing building was purchased by the Family & Children's Place.

The initial proposed F&CP development included an off-street parking area immediately to the east of the old Salvation Army building which is owned and occupied by Memorial Auditorium.

In that proposal the Memorial Auditorium parking area would be replaced and a new F&CP office building built. As part of the package Metro Government had offered Ben Washer Park to the F&CP for redevelopment which included renovation of the historic residence in BWP and the retention of some open space.

The Old Louisville neighborhood unanimously opposed this comprehensive proposal.

Dan Fox, President of F&CP next pursued purchasing the open space to the south, which was for sale by the Sons of the American Revolution.

Purchasing the Memorial Auditorium off-street parking area was also pursued.

However, the Memorial Auditorium Board resisted losing their parking area.

After lengthy discussions, the two groups agreed to exchange sites. The Memorial Auditorium parking is now planned to occur along 5th St. to the corner of 5th & Zane Streets, and the F&CP will use the MA site for a building addition with a small parking area and landscaped areas.

The F&CP is planning to locate their office facility along Zane St. and west of the proposed MA parking area with off-street parking to the rear of the building.

After a presentation describing the above revisions, PIC voted to support the new F&CP and MA concept.

Dan Fox agreed to keep the Old Louisville neighborhood informed as plans develop.

Site to be developed for Family & Children's Place expansion.

2011 Old Louisville Hidden Treasures Garden Tour: Thanks to All

July started heating up just before the 2011 Garden Tour, but Old Man Weather mercifully spared us all from what he had in store for us just after the tour. Visitors were uniformly enthusiastic about this year's eclectic collection of eleven gardens and a carriage house while gratefully consuming the refreshments offered at several venues. Once more Old Louisville has displayed its beauty, charm and community spirit to neighbors and visitors from all parts of the Louisville Metro area, Southern Indiana and points well beyond.

On behalf of the Second Street Neighborhood Association, we'd like to express our appreciation and gratitude to all who joined together to make this community effort a success. The few do the planning, but the many bring about the success.

Old Louisville's garden tour is one of a kind, located as it is in the nation's largest Victorian residential area, but the surprises to be found in its varied private landscapes, often well hidden from public view, underscore its interest for all the Louisville Metro Area's residents. This display of our neighborhood's unique character would not be possible without the generosity and hard work of the garden hosts who opened their private outdoor spaces to this year's hundreds of visitors. Our thanks go to Joy and Jan Carew, Sue Eichenberger, Ian and Rochelle Farah, Ken Herndon, Robert Kimball and Nancy Potter, David Mills and Thomas Trudgeon, Dennis Rollins and Christopher White, Joan Stewart, Caroline and Jeremy Thornewill, Gayle and Herb Warren and Nancy and Tom Woodcock. We extend our thanks also to the residents of Ouerbacker Court, organized by Craig Heath, who specially embellished this "hidden treasure" for our visitors.

Another notable aspect of the tour is its several venues. Thanks to the Conrad-Caldwell House Museum's staff and its Executive Director Frances Dulaney, the tour enjoys a space where we can offer complimentary refreshments and respite from the heat at Haskins Hall and add variety to tour activity with a silent auction and vendors' booths. Visitors also get an opportunity to tour this remarkable house at a reduced rate. The DuPont Mansion adds an artistic and dynamic dimension to the tour with its Art in the Garden event and its annual limited-edition, signed poster based on an original work by one of the artists. This year, the tour's location once again permitted inclusion of the very welcome Ice Cream Social provided by the Arthur Kling Center under the direction of Zandra Lyons.

Support for this tour comes in many forms. We term "volunteers" those who plan, sell tickets, monitor gardens, serve refreshments and service the needs of the gardens during the tour. Here they are; without them, there would be no tour: Mary Baker, Dennis Bishop, Jaque Bishop, Bill Bolte, Tim Bottorff, Jeri Britton, Deborah Brook, Bailey and Linda Brooks, Mary Nell Brumfield, Jeff Call, Cindy Calvelo, Jo Ann Celentano, Maleva Chamberlain, Larry Chase, Jean and Jesper Christensen, Jan Ciermans, Lloyd Cole, Vernon Cook, Tonja Craig, Jim Croslin, Carol Davies, Todd Davis, Sam Dorr, Tom Duffy, Barbara Ehrlich, Ginny Ehrlich, Carl Enoch, Jane Freeman, Nancy Gall-Clayton, Cherie and Michael Harper, Caleb Henry, Marilyn Hrbek, Jim-E Iler, Bonnie Isabelle, Lee Jones, JoAnn Kats, Ginny Keen, Kai Kirby, Kevin Kouba, Jo Ann and Zane Lockhart, Anne Lyons, Matthew Lyons, Victor Marquardt, Mary Martin, Glenda and Ron Mason, Ashley McCorkle, Greg Moore, Jan Morris, Rob Music, Maggie Myatt, Tamara Newton, Jack Omac, Sharon Overton, Jim Oxyer, David and Elizabeth Paige, Earl Preher, Deb and Ron Riall, Katrina Ricker, Kayla Ricker, Gina Schack, Dave Schardein, Anna Schellenberger, Marshall Shelor, John Sistarenik, Barbara Stephens, Tom Thacker, Helga Ulrich, Jan Vogel and Richard Wagner.

Tickets must be sold, and discounted advance ticket sales lure those visitors who like a bargain. Thanks go to Linda Plunkett at the Old Louisville Information Center, Earlene Zimlich and her fab volunteers at the Old Louisville Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Center and our resident artist and web designer/master John Paul for their help in attracting visitors. Kerry DeMuth of Schneider DeMuth Advertising obtained the great coverage that sent visitors to buy those tickets.

Individuals and businesses who donate material support through financial, spacial, service and in-kind donations are our "sponsors." This generosity allows the garden tour to offer activities and amenities that enrich the visitors' garden tour experience. Our two principal expenses are underwritten by The Plant Kingdom, who sponsored our fan maps, and Judy and Larry Franklin of Franklin, Grey and White Law Firm, who sponsored the signature plaques given to the garden hosts for their participation. In the July issue, we highlighted Old Louisville sponsors who are residents and business sponsors, but the tour is indebted as well to the generosity of others outside Old Louisville. As we say on our website (oldlouisvillegardentour.com) to all of these, THANKS TO OUR SPONSORS!: Amici's Italian Café, Architectural Salvage, Gloria Barham / Stella & Dot, Joe Barham - IT Specialist, BC Plumbing Company, Bunton Seed Co., The Burger Boy Diner, Cake Flour - A Natural Baking Company, Carly Rae's Restaurant and Jazz Lounge, Cave Hill Cemetery - Lee Squires, Larry and Mary Chase, The Conrad-Caldwell House Museum, Distinct Renovations - Jim De Blasi, DuPont Mansion Bed & Breakfast, Economy Aquatic Gardens, E. J. Printing, Ermin's French Bakery and Café, Franklin Gray & White - Judy and Larry Franklin, The Gallery at 133, Gilmour Mfg. - Lawn & Garden Tools, The Granville Inn, Gumby's Custom Catering & Edesia Gardens Banquet Venue, Harpring Florist / Mark E. White, Ken Herndon / Jan Scholtz Realtors, Hidden Hill Nursery / Bob Hill, J & J Old Louisville Music Shop, Joe Ley Antiques Inc., johnpaul / design - The Old Louisville iPhone App, The Arthur Kling Center, Lady Slipper Nursery, Louisville Stoneware, The Mag Bar, Mary Martin - Semonin Realtors, Masterson's Catering, Muth's Candy Store, Nord's Bakery, Oak Street Hardware / Lee Jones, Old Louisville Chamber of Commerce & Visitors Center, Old Louisville Coffeehouse, Old Louisville Information Center, Subway Sandwiches & Salads, The Plant Kingdom, The Root Cellar, Scheler's Food Mart, Schneider DeMuth Advertising, B. Thomas Thacker, Ph.D. - Psychologist / Psychoanalyst, Third Avenue Café, Treyton Oak Towers, Dennis E. Wagner, Ed.D. - Forensic Psychologist and The Wine Market. As you can see from these lists, some of our sponsors give doubly by also being volunteers.

See you next year! - The Old Louisville Hidden Treasures Garden Tour Committee.

Blessings in a Backpack!

A huge Thank You goes to the 3rd Street NA for their involvement with the Lives of the students at Cochran Elementary School! The latest of the many projects dedicated to the betterment of the lives and/or school experience for the students is a program called "Blessings in a Backpack". This program provides food for those elementary students who would go hungry over the weekend without this much needed help. On Friday of each school week each of the students in need receive a backpack with food for the weekend. 3rd Street has provided for 125 students...there are more of the 400 students at Cochran who need help. If you or your NA or your office/work work be interested in helping with this endeavor, call 635-5244, The Information Center, for more information.
